Rosewood, 50 The Avenue, Girvan

Offered for sale for the first time since it was built in 1963, this distinctive architect-designed detached house represents a rare opportunity to acquire a home of genuine individuality, generous proportions and enduring appeal.

Extending to approximately 205 sq m (2,207 sq ft), the property occupies a prominent corner position within mature, well-established gardens, and enjoys a highly desirable setting in a popular residential area, well placed for a wide range of local amenities.

The house is entered via an entrance vestibule leading into an impressively spacious reception hall, where a stylish staircase creates an immediate sense of character and scale.

The large living room is a particularly attractive principal reception space, featuring an open fire and a wide window overlooking the rear garden together with a glazed door providing direct access outside, creating an excellent connection between the house and its beautifully maintained outdoor space.

At the heart of the home is a generous dining kitchen, well suited to everyday family life and entertaining alike. This is complemented by a highly practical boot room with a number of built-in storage cupboards, providing excellent additional utility space.

The ground floor offers notable flexibility and includes a bedroom which could equally serve as a second sitting room or family room, together with a separate dining room and a cloakroom with WC and wash hand basin.

A particularly valuable feature of the property is the lift, installed off the dining room and providing direct access to the principal bedroom upstairs. This thoughtful addition enhances accessibility and future-proofs the home, making it especially attractive to buyers seeking adaptable accommodation for the years ahead.

On the first floor, the property offers four bedrooms together with a modern shower room, providing well-balanced family accommodation.

Although the interior reflects its era, the house has been clearly cherished and enjoys a wonderfully warm and welcoming feel throughout, while also offering excellent scope for sympathetic updating and personalisation.

Externally, the house is set within attractive mature gardens with established planting, clipped hedging and a lovely sense of privacy. The generous driveway provides substantial off-street parking and adds further to the home's excellent kerb appeal. The property is further complemented by a detached double garage with light and power, in addition to two useful external storage sheds.

The location is a further key attraction, with the property situated in a well-regarded residential area close to schools and parks, while the beach is approximately a 10-minute walk away. Shops and the railway station are also readily accessible, making this a particularly appealing home for families and those seeking convenience alongside space and character.

Altogether, this is a home of architectural distinction, flexibility and long-term practicality, now ready for its next chapter after more than sixty years of ownership.
